

Far-right Awareness Training

The far-right has been using both people's fears around COVID-19 and the issues addressed in the Black Lives Matter protests, to further their own agenda. They might well have influenced you without you knowing it.

This training looks at the rise of the Far-Right and what you can do to tackle the issue. Learn who represents the Far-Right, how they spread their message, how they recruit, and what you can do to stop them.
